

Amendments to the Claims:

39. (Amended) The apparatus of claim 38, wherein the specimen cup includes a lid through which the first inlet communicates with the specimen cup via a tube [from] which [the first housing] extends into the specimen cup, and wherein said [first housing] tube has at least two perforations at different longitudinal points along its length.